Abstract: The abstract should be written in italics and should have between 250 words and 400 words. It will be formatted as one single paragraph without any other styles, bullets, and lists, like this one. With regards to the body of the abstract you need to make a clear statement of the topic of your paper and your research question. You should write about how your research was/is being undertaken. For example, is it empirical or theoretical? Is it quantitative or qualitative? What value are your findings and to whom will they be of use? The abstract should then briefly describe the work to be discussed in your paper and give a concise summary of the findings. Finally, your abstract should not include diagrams and in general references are not required in the abstract.

Keywords: Include 3 to 6 keywords here, separated by semicolon.

JEL Classification: At least one code corresponding for your paper can be chosen from http://www.aeaweb.org/jel/jel_class_system.php. Please use the code only (e.g.: A14), without including the description of the code, separated by semicolon.

1. Heading: Generally, Introduction or Background

Leave here 1 empty row.

This model paper contains information about the formatting requirements for the proceedings of this conference. Read this document carefully.

Format your paper in Arial 10pt throughout, using bold (for titles and headings only) and italics as appropriate. Do not use any formatted styles other than bullets where required for lists. We will apply all other styles when the paper is typeset. The paper should not exceed 5000 words, including abstract, figures and references. References should use the Harvard style (see below for further details - information on the Harvard referencing style can be found at: http://www.ex.ac.uk/dll/studyskills/harvard_referencing.htm). The overall length of the paper, including tables, diagrams, charts, abstract and references must not exceed 10 pages.

Papers accepted are published in the EINCO conference proceedings. We ask all authors to follow these guidelines to maintain a high standard of consistency.

1.1. Page size

The proceedings are produced on B5 paper 17 x 24 cm. The page margins are 2 cm all round. Margins should be Justified. If you are using a Mac, please be aware that these settings may be adjusted in unexpected ways. The pages should not be numbered. Do not use multiple columns.

1.2. Typeset text

Use normal capitalization within the text and do not use bold text for emphasis. Italics are acceptable. All headings should use initial capitals of all words of 4 or more letters only, excepting for use of Acronyms. Please DO NOT use footnotes and endnotes. Footnotes and endnotes are not permitted and papers containing them will be returned.

1.2.1. Sub-sections

You may use up to three levels of heading, as illustrated in this document. Do not use any further levels of heading.

Leave here 1 empty row.

1.2.2. Paragraphs and spacing

Before each level 1 heading, you should leave two empty rows (for example, see below, before 2. Title and authors).

Before each level 2 and 3 heading, you should leave one empty row (see above, before 1.2.2. Paragraphs and spacing).

There are no spaces between the paragraphs of the same heading.

This is the second empty row left before the level 1 heading type to follow.

2. Title and authors

Leave here 1 empty row.

The title of the proposed paper is most important. Short attention-catching titles are the most effective.

Multiple authors (maximum 6 allowed) from the same institution should appear as detailed at the start of this document.

3. Figures and tables

Leave here 1 empty row.

You are invited to use figures and tables in your paper wherever they will help to illustrate your text. The proceedings are delivered to conference participants in electronic format and therefore support colour figures, however, the book version is printed in black and white and therefore you are advised to refrain from using colours to deliver important information in your figures.

3.1. Figures

Figures should be numbered consecutively throughout the paper and not numbered according to the section in which they appear. Figure captions should appear below the figure. Use the word Figure in full, and not Fig or F.

The figure below gives information about the placing of figures.

Pictures should be placed where you would like them to appear in the text. It may sometimes be necessary to move them to accommodate page=breaks etc., but every effort will be made to keep them where you have placed them. All figures should be centred on the page. Figures should be referenced in the text preceding the figure and captioned immediately below the figure.

Source:

Before the figure and after the figure's source you should leave one empty row. Due to the conversion process, some images can cause larger than necessary pdf. files. If you have complicated images, provide these as separate image files (edited to 300dpi) in either .gif or .jpg format as appropriate.

Linked diagrams, inserted from other packages, cause problems when typesetting. Please do not do this. Instead create an image in a format as listed above and insert. It is helpful if you can upload the image as a separate attachment too, when submitting your paper in full.

Whilst every care is taken to ensure that figures are reproduced to a high standard, this does ultimately depend on them being supplied in the correct format.

3.2 Tables

Create tables using the table option of your word processing package. Do not use tabs and spaces. Before the table's title and after the table you should leave one empty row. See the example below.

Table 1: A sample table

Sample table for illustration		purposes
	Heading text	Heading text
Subject text	Detail text	Detail text
Subject text	Detail text	Detail text
Subject text	Detail text	Detail text

Tables should be set as "Autofit to contents" and centred on the page. If your table runs over two pages, please ensure that headings are also carried over. Do not allow rows to split across pages.

4. Language, style, bullets and content

Leave here 1 empty row.

The language of the Conference and publication is English. All papers must be submitted in English. Exception is accepted for papers submitted to the Sub-section The Impact of Foreign Languages on the Business Environment only, where the abstract of the paper must be written in English, but the paper's body is allowed to be written in another foreign language than Romanian, subject to author/s' choice. With regards to English spelling and dialect, we prefer you to use British English, but Canadian, US etc. are acceptable provided they are used consistently. Hyphenation is preferred. To ensure suitability for an international audience, please pay attention to the following:

- Write in a straightforward style.
- Try to avoid long or complex sentence structures.
- Briefly explain all technical terms that may be unfamiliar to some readers.
- Explain all acronyms at first use, i.e., International Conference on European Integration – New Challenges (EINCO)
- Explain all local references (e.g., not everyone is familiar with city names in a country).

The one exception to the use of normal style is the use of Bullets style to format bulleted lists (as above). Please use the small square bullet as shown. Other bullets style (e.g., like numbered bullets) may NOT be used.

4.1. English proofreading

Please note that if English is not your native language we recommend that you have your paper proofread by a fluent (preferably native) speaker as a poor standard of English may lead to your paper being returned.

Translation services: Word2Word offer translation services which you may wish to use. The University of Oradea and the EINCO organizers are not responsible for and do not endorse, services provided by this company.

4.2. Page numbers, headers and footers

Please do not insert headers, footers or page numbers. Do not refer to page numbers in your text as these will be different when your paper is published. You can refer to section headings only.

5. In conclusion

Leave here 1 empty row.

It is important that you write for a general audience. It is also important that your work is presented in a professional fashion. These guidelines should help to achieve that goal. By adhering to these guidelines, you help the conference organisers tremendously in ensuring impressive presentation of your paper and we thank you for your co-operation.

6. Acknowledgements

Leave here 1 empty row.

If you wish to make acknowledgements in your paper, these should appear immediately before the references at the end of the paper.

References

1. Please, do number references BUT do not use automatically numbering list or bullet points. References in the text should be in the format (Baldwin, 2012) and should then be listed at the end of the paper in alphabetical order as per the following examples: References in the text of the paper should be in the Harvard style (further information on the Harvard referencing style can be found at: http://www.ex.ac.uk/dll/studyskills/harvard_referencing.htm) as follows:

2. Focusing primarily on trade policy, tax policy, and regional policy, Baldwin et al. (2005) show how these models can be used to make sense of real-world situations.
3. In principle, multiple saddle paths may correspond to a given initial condition, thus creating what Matsuyama (1991) calls an indeterminacy of the equilibrium path.
4. The second concentration mechanism is the input-output linkages induced by consumption and supply of intermediate goods (Krugman and Venables, 1995; Venables, 1996). The economic geography model in Krugman (1991a) was ...
5. In explaining the increased divergence in the distribution of economic activity between countries and regions, Krugman (1991a, 1991b) and Romer (1986) relied on models based on increasing returns to scale in production.
6. In macrophages, ΔV_{px} replication is not detectable and this defect has been shown to be present at post-entry and before/during the reverse transcription process (Fujita et al., 2008, 2010; Srivastava et al., 2008).
7. "financial planning is an important and essential activity in any organisation" (Nugus et al., 2003).
8. The Guardian reported that twenty-nine inmates were participating in the programme ("Serving time", 1996: 21).
9. The semicolon can be used to separate two sections of a compound sentence that have a similar theme (Turabian, 1996: 56; Petelin and Durham, 1992:169).

11. Eisenberg and Smith (in Bolton, 1986: 85) agree that "it is hard to assign general meaning to any isolated nonverbal sign".
12. You should list up to three authors. If there are more than three then you reference the lead author followed by et al. Do not use square brackets [] and do not fully capitalise names.
13. Secondary references would appear in the text as "Nugus (in Remenyi, 1999: 25) ..." and only the Remenyi work would be listed at the end of the paper. Further information on the Harvard referencing style can be found at: http://www.ex.ac.uk/dll/studyskills/harvard_referencing.htm.
