INVITATION AND CALL FOR PAPERS

International Conference of Doctoral Students and Young Researchers

“Emerging Markets Economics and Business”

17th EDITION	DATE	VENUE AND FORMAT
Doctoral symposium with international participation	18-19 November 2026	Oradea, Romania hybrid format, on site and online

Dear Colleagues,

The Faculty of Economic Sciences, University of Oradea, a founding partner of the EU GREEN European Alliance, has the honour of inviting you to the 17th Edition of the International Conference of Doctoral Students and Young Researchers, “Emerging Markets Economics and Business.”

The conference will be held on 18–19 November 2026 in a hybrid format, combining on-site and online sessions. It is part of the events dedicated to the Day of the Economist and Economics Teacher and supports the mission of EU GREEN to promote sustainability-oriented education, research, innovation and social responsibility. We warmly welcome doctoral students, postdoctoral researchers and young researchers from Romanian and international universities who wish to present original research in economics, business administration, sustainable development and related fields of the economic sciences.

The conference encourages contributions addressing contemporary economic and business challenges, including sustainable finance, responsible business models, green innovation, circular economy, digital transformation, social inclusion, environmental responsibility and the implementation of the Sustainable Development Goals.

OBJECTIVES OF THE CONFERENCE

- To provide doctoral students and young researchers with a platform for presenting original research in economics, business, sustainability and related fields.
- To encourage research that contributes to sustainable, inclusive and responsible economic development.
- To raise awareness among young scientists of their role in proposing innovative and evidence-based solutions to contemporary social, economic and environmental challenges.
- To promote interdisciplinary dialogue on the relationship between economic performance, social responsibility and environmental sustainability.
- To support the development of research aligned with the Sustainable Development Goals and the priorities of the EU GREEN European Alliance.

IMPORTANT DATES

06 November 2026	Submission of the full paper (4 pages) by e-mail
11 November 2026	Notification of acceptance for presentation and inclusion in the programme
13 November 2026	Payment of the registration fee and submission of the proof of payment by e-mail
16 November 2026	Public release of the conference programme
18 November 2026	First conference day, starting at 13:00 (local time)
19 November 2026	Second conference day, starting at 10:00 (local time)

Owing to the very tight schedule, no deadline extension will be granted under any circumstances.

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

- Papers must be written in English, in MS Word, B5 format, following the template provided (Model Paper Doctoral Symposium Oradea), and must have exactly 4 pages, including the title, the authors' names, affiliation and contact details.
- The file should be named LASTNAME Firstname UNIV, for example: POPESCU Ion ASE, or, for several authors, IONESCU Elena, GEORGESCU Dan, POPA Ilie UVT.
- The full paper will be sent by e-mail, with the subject "Paper for Conference", to sesiunedrd2024@yahoo.com, by 6 November 2026.
- Each doctoral student may submit a maximum of two papers, as sole author, together with the PhD supervisor, or together with other doctoral students. Papers authored by postdoctoral researchers and young researchers are also welcome.
- Presentations will be delivered in English, using PowerPoint, within 10 to 15 minutes per paper.
- By sending the paper together with the scanned proof of payment, participants agree that their papers will be scheduled for presentation. Failure to e-mail the payment order may result in exclusion from the programme.

REVIEW AND PUBLICATION OPPORTUNITIES

After the conference, participants will receive the result of the review process, together with the request to send the revised paper and the Copyright form. Only papers submitted strictly within the deadline, fully compliant with the formatting requirements, falling within Economics and Business Administration and meeting the scientific standards of such events will be accepted for publication.

Conference proceedings, free of charge

Papers of participants who have paid the registration fee will be published, with no additional fee, in the volume Emerging Markets Economics and Business. Contributions of Young Researchers. Proceedings of the 17th International Conference of Doctoral Students and Young Researchers, with an ISBN/ISSN code, published by the University of Oradea by the end of 2026.

The Annals of the University of Oradea. Economic Sciences

A limited number of authors who were appreciated during the conference have the opportunity to submit an extended version of their paper, with a different title and content, for the December 2026 or July 2027 issues. The journal is indexed in multiple international databases, including ERIH PLUS. Extended papers must meet the journal's criteria and will undergo the standard review process. The deadline for the December 2026 issue is 2 December 2026. A publication fee applies according to the journal's policy (50 EUR per paper). anale.steconomiceuoradea.ro
