Message from the Dean

Welcome to the Faculty of Economic Sciences!

Prof.univ.dr.habil. Diana SABĂU-POPA

Dean of the Faculty of Economic Sciences

Dear students,

It is with great joy that I welcome you to the academic community of the Faculty of Economic Sciences at the University of Oradea!

Today, as you step through the doors of this prestigious institution, you are not only beginning a new stage in your academic life, but also joining a dynamic and ambitious community dedicated to excellence and innovation.

Our mission is to train top specialists in the fundamental field of Economic Sciences, to generate new knowledge in the service of economic and social progress, and to foster entrepreneurship and innovation for the economic and social development of the community, while upholding academic values and national and international quality standards.

We want the Faculty of Economic Sciences to be a modern, flexible faculty that constantly adapts to change, providing modern, student-centred economic education in which you are our true partners. We strive for the continuous improvement of the quality and performance of our people, as well as of the efficiency of our teaching and research processes. We aim to build genuine partnerships between the faculty, students and the business community.

You are the future! You are the ones who will become opinion leaders and responsible, well-trained economists with a clear vision and solid ethical values. You will be the ones who understand and influence macro- and microeconomic mechanisms, shaping the strategies and policies that will define tomorrow's society.

Our faculty offers you more than theoretical knowledge. Here you will find an environment that supports high-quality learning, high-performing study programmes centred on your needs, and opportunities for cutting-edge scientific research. I invite you to make the most of your academic freedom, to get actively involved in open dialogue, in the exchange of ideas, in student organisations, and in our faculty's partnerships and projects, to take part in academic events, and to develop your critical thinking and creativity.

Together we will build excellence! Through collegiality, open communication and our shared dedication to performance and professionalism, we will together make this faculty a catalyst in the economic field, able to provide well-informed answers to the socio-economic environment.

Our core values (integrity, creativity, innovation, competitiveness, respect for diversity and team spirit) will also be your guiding points on this academic journey. The principles of fairness, meritocracy, transparency and responsibility will guide your every step.

Dare to dream! The Faculty of Economic Sciences in Oradea is not just the place where you will earn a degree, but the space where you can discover your passion for economics, where you will form lifelong friendships and where you will lay the foundations of a successful career.

I wish you an academic journey full of achievements, discoveries and professional satisfaction. Be curious, be ambitious, be our partners in this extraordinary adventure of knowledge!

Welcome to our academic community!

Chapter 2

Your first weeks at university, in 6 steps

Tips for first-year students: what to do to get off to a good start.

Don't leave for tomorrow what you can sort out today, in the first week! 💪

Your plan in 6 steps

1 📝 Sign the annual study contract

Read it carefully: it is your agreement on this year's subjects. Your year tutor can help if you have questions.

2 💻 Activate your Office 365 account

It gives you access to the e-learning platform (e.uoradea.ro), Teams and the eUOradea app.

3 🪪 Get your student card stamped

At the Secretary's office, room F203 (Monday to Friday 11-14, Wednesday 16-18). Without the stamp, grades cannot be recorded.

4 🗓️ Discover the timetable and the course syllabi

The timetable is on the website; the course syllabus tells you whether attendance is compulsory and how you are assessed.

5 🤝 Meet your year tutor

The first person to turn to with any question. Their name and email are in the dedicated chapter.

6 🚀 Get involved

ASEO, AIESEC, Erasmus+, career events: your university years are also built outside the lecture hall.

Why get organised early?

- ✔ You avoid the stress and the queues at the Secretary's office
- ✔ You don't miss the deadlines for scholarships and dormitories
- ✔ You have time for your personal life
- ✔ You start the semester with all your accounts working

Indicative calendar

Week 1	contract, student card, accounts
Weeks 2–3	timetable, syllabi, e-learning platform
Month 2	associations, volunteering, Erasmus+
Dec.	make up absences, plan for the exam session

Useful ideas:

- Use a notebook or an app for planning
- Set weekly goals
- Ask for help when you get stuck
- Believe in yourself!

🏆 You can do it!
Every small step brings you closer to your degree.

Good luck in everything you set out to do! The future is yours!

Chapter 3

Organisational and academic structure of the faculty

Who runs the faculty, how you are represented and where to find your lecturers.

Faculty Council

The Faculty Council is the body that runs the faculty. It brings together academic staff and students, and is responsible for the smooth organisation of the educational process, for academic life and for the faculty's development strategy. The Council of the Faculty of Economic Sciences has 22 members, of whom 16 are academic staff and 6 are students. Its composition can be viewed at this link: steconomice.uoradea.ro/consiliul-fse/

Main responsibilities of the Council of the Faculty of Economic Sciences

- approves the curricula and study programmes;
- sets the number of admission places (together with the university);
- decides on the organisation of research activities and on strategic directions;
- proposes and approves partnership projects with other universities and institutions;
- discusses and approves matters relating to students' academic life (scholarships, mobilities, extracurricular activities, etc.).

Student participation, an essential right

A very important element provided for in the University Charter is that students have representatives on the Faculty Council. These representatives are elected by direct vote by their fellow students every academic year.

Student representatives have the same voting rights as academic staff on the Council. This means that your voice counts in important decisions about student life.

How are student representatives on the Faculty Council elected?

At the start of every academic year, elections are held through a transparent procedure supervised by the faculty and by student organisations. Any interested student can register as a candidate and be voted for by their fellow students.

Why is it important to have representatives?

- They defend your interests: scholarships, learning conditions, infrastructure, study programmes, Erasmus mobilities, etc.
- They are the bridge between students and lecturers: they pass on the problems or proposals you raise to the faculty management.
- They take part in decision-making: they vote alongside academic staff and directly influence faculty policy.
- They shape leaders: if you become a representative, you learn to negotiate, coordinate projects and represent your fellow students, a valuable experience for your career.

The Faculty Council is not just "an administrative structure", it is the place where the decisions that affect your student life are made. You and your fellow students have the power to choose who represents you.

The FSE departments

Departments are the basic administrative and teaching units of the university, integrated within the faculties. The Faculty of Economic Sciences has four departments: the Department of International Business, the Department of Economics and Business, the Department of Finance and Accounting and the Department of Management and Marketing.

University departments manage the bachelor's and master's study programmes, organise the curriculum into specific subjects, propose the curricula, coordinate lectures, seminars and laboratory classes, and assess academic progress; for example, the Department of Finance and Accounting manages all subjects related to accounting or finance. They also oversee the running of teaching activities, including examinations, projects and internships, ensuring compliance with national and European standards, with adaptations to the needs of the labour market, all in close collaboration with the dean's office in order to maintain the quality and relevance of the studies.

HOW TO REACH YOUR LECTURERS

The academic staff's office hours for students are posted at the department office and on the faculty website. So, when you need clarification on a subject, check the schedule on the website or go directly to the relevant department office, where you will find it posted on the door. Another effective way to contact lecturers is to write them an e-mail, either to their official institutional addresses, which follow the format FirstNameInitialSurname@uoradea.ro, or to other addresses communicated by the academic staff. These addresses are listed on the faculty website, allowing quick and formal communication for academic or administrative questions.

Structure of the academic year 2026/2027

Periods of teaching activities, holidays, examination sessions and re-sit sessions, according to Decision no. 27/29.09.2025 of the Senate of the University of Oradea, Annex 30.

01.10.2026
the academic year begins

14 + 14
weeks of teaching activities (semester I + semester II)

weeks of examination session (winter + summer)

General structure (years I and II)

Period		Activity	No. of weeks
from	to
Semester I
01.10.26	23.12.26	Teaching activities	12 weeks
24.12.26	10.01.27	Holiday	2 weeks
11.01.27	24.01.27	Teaching activities	2 weeks
25.01.27	14.02.27	Examination session	3 weeks
15.02.27	21.02.27	Holiday	1 week
22.02.27	28.02.27	Re-sit and grade improvement session	1 week
Semester II
01.03.27	02.05.27	Teaching activities	9 weeks
03.05.27	09.05.27	Holiday	1 week
10.05.27	13.06.27	Teaching activities	5 weeks
14.06.27	04.07.27	Examination session	3 weeks
05.07.27	11.07.27	Re-sit and grade improvement session	1 week
12.07.27	29.08.27	Holiday*	7 weeks
12.07.27	29.08.27	Internship / Holiday	2-3 weeks / 4-5 weeks
30.08.27	05.09.27	Re-sit and grade improvement session	1 week
06.09.27	12.09.27	Re-sit and grade improvement session	1 week
13.09.27	30.09.27	Holiday	3 weeks

* for students whose curriculum does not include internship activities;  for students whose curriculum includes an internship (2 or 3 weeks) and holiday, for the period 12.07 - 29.08.2027.

DON'T FORGET

Exams are taken only during the examination session or the re-sit session. The re-sit and grade improvement sessions in 2026-2027: 22-28 February, 5-11 July, 30 August - 5 September and 6-12 September 2027.

Odd week and even week in the timetable

In the timetable, some lectures or seminars are marked "odd week" or "even week": that activity takes place only once every two weeks. To know which week you are in, count the school weeks from the beginning of the semester:

- The first school week is week 1, so it is odd. The second week is week 2, so it is even. The third is week 3, odd, and so on, up to week 14.
- Holiday weeks are not counted. If it was week 7 before the holiday, the first week after the holiday is week 8, whether the holiday lasted one week or several. The count carries on from where it left off.
- The count restarts from week 1 at the beginning of each semester: on 1 October 2026 (semester I) and on 1 March 2027 (semester II).

AN EXAMPLE FROM THIS YEAR

Semester II begins on Monday, 1 March 2027 (week 1, odd). The week of 26 April - 2 May is week 9 (odd). Then comes the Easter holiday, 3-9 May, which is not counted. The week of 10-16 May is therefore week 10, even, not week 11. If a course appears in the timetable as "even week", the first meeting after the holiday takes place precisely in the week of 10-16 May.

Structure for final years (year III)

Period		Activity	No. of weeks
from	to
Semester I
01.10.26	23.12.26	Teaching activities	12 weeks
24.12.26	10.01.27	Holiday	2 weeks

Map of the University of Oradea campus

The campus will quickly become a familiar place. In the same area you will find the teaching buildings, the library, the halls of residence, the canteen, the medical office and the sports complex. FSE classes take place mainly in Buildings F and E. Building F is also home to the Secretary's office (F203), while Building E houses the faculty's departments. The map below helps you find your way around and locate each landmark more easily.

How do you find your classroom?

At first, room codes may seem complicated, but they are easy to decode once you know what each character means. Let's take F006 as an example:

- F = the building where the room is located, so Building F;
- 0 = the floor you need to go to, so the ground floor;
- 06 = the room number, so room 06.

So, if your timetable says Lecture Hall F006, you need to go to Building F, on the ground floor, and look for room 06.

💡 Remember the rule:
Letter = the building
First digit = the floor
Last digits = the room number

🧭 Once you have understood this rule, you can "read" the code of any room and it will be much easier to find where your class is held.

Other examples from the campus

F203	Building F, 2nd floor, room 03: Secretary's office of the Faculty of Economic Sciences
E014	Building E, ground floor, room 14: Department of Finance and Accounting
E119	Building E, 1st floor, room 19: Department of International Business
F303	Building F, 3rd floor, room 03: Head of the Department of Management and Marketing

Can't find the room? Ask an older student, the porter of the building or the Secretary's office: everyone has been through this in their first week! 😊

Chapter 6

Your planner 2026–2027, years I and II

One page for each month: the calendar coloured according to the structure of the academic year (green for classes, yellow for holidays, pink for exam sessions, blue for re-sits, a star for public holidays), the month's goals and space for notes. Print it and keep it on your desk!

ODD OR EVEN WEEK?

The first week of classes in a semester is week 1 (odd), the second is week 2 (even) and so on. Holiday weeks are not counted: if it was week 7 before the holiday, the first week after the holiday is week 8. You can write the week number directly in the calendar, in the Monday box.

The bachelor's thesis calendar: the graduation thesis, month by month

A monthly strategic guide: what to do at each stage, from finalising the title to the defence.

Month	Goal and what you work on
October 2026 The start and the alliances	The thesis topic was chosen last year; now the title is finalised together with the supervisor, before the winter rush. Initial discussions with the professor, the preliminary table of contents (chapter structure) and creating the Word file in the format required by the methodology.
November 2026 Hunting for sources	Gathering the bibliography: articles on Google Scholar and in databases (Anelis Plus, Eurostat, INSSE). The PDFs are downloaded and renamed. Writing the first sub-chapters of the theoretical chapter begins.
December 2026 Theoretical progress (before the holidays)	Intensive writing of the theory: the first half of the theoretical framework, with footnotes added in real time, to avoid detective work later.
January 2027 Hand-in 1	In the first week after the holiday, the complete theoretical chapter is handed in to the supervisor. After that, collecting raw data for the case study begins (balance sheets, figures, statistical data) and organising them in Excel.
February 2027 The exam session and the practical structure	Getting through the semester I exam session and preparing the ground: during the break between semesters the data are cleaned in Excel and the calculation methodology is finalised. Formulas and pivot tables are prepared.
March 2027 Excel at full power	Generating the analyses and charts: the data are processed, the charts are drawn (lines for trends, bars for comparisons) and exported to Word. The explanatory text of the case study is written.
April 2027 Finishing the economic analysis	Closing the practical chapter before the holidays: the economic interpretation of the data and the formulation of personal proposals based on the figures obtained.
1-10 May 2027 Hand-in 2	Right after the Easter holiday, the graduation thesis is handed in (at least 20 net pages). The supervisor checks the case study and runs the anti-plagiarism software; the student receives feedback and makes the corrections.
11-25 May 2027 The details that make the difference	The introduction and the final conclusions (linked to the Excel results), the automatically generated table of contents, the bibliography and the webography sorted alphabetically.
31 May 2027 The thesis is 100% ready	At least 40 "clean" pages (without the table of contents, introduction and bibliography), impeccable formatting, a similarity coefficient below the accepted limit of 20%.
June 2027 Paperwork and poise	Week 1: Annex 7 to the Graduation Methodology and the supervisor's handwritten approval ("Approved for defence"). Week 2: uploading all the required documents to the platform (nothing is submitted at the Secretary's office). Week 3: preparing the thesis presentation, based on the results, and rehearsing the free speech, with the 3 dynamics points from the marking scheme.
12-18 July 2027 The bachelor's exam	The thesis defence. Second session: 6-12 September 2027. Check the faculty page constantly: steconomice.uoradea.ro/examen-de-licenta/

Chapter 10

Regulation on students' professional activity (ECTS)

The general framework of your studies, from enrolment to graduation: rights, obligations, credits, promotion.

The University of Oradea has a Regulation on Students' Professional Activity (ECTS) at UO. This regulation is updated every academic year; the one valid for 2026-2027 was approved on 29 June 2026 by the UO Senate and can be read in full at this link: https://www.uoradea.ro/wp-content/uploads/2026/07/HS-39_Anexa-37.pdf.

What does the regulation contain?

The Regulation on students' professional activity at the University of Oradea sets out the general framework of your studies, from enrolment to the completion of the bachelor's or master's cycle. It includes rules on admission, the student's personal file and documents, as well as the rights and obligations of every student. It lays down rules on attendance at lectures, laboratories and internships, the ways in which absences can be excused, as well as the forms of assessment and how ECTS credits are earned. The regulation explains how the academic year is passed, how re-sit exams are handled, re-examinations and the situations that lead to expulsion (exmatriculation).

The document also regulates academic mobility (Erasmus, national and international), interruption of studies, transfers and re-enrolment, as well as the rewards and sanctions applicable to students. The final part details aspects concerning funding (state-funded places, scholarships, dual programmes), the formation of study groups and the special provisions in the annexes: the psycho-pedagogical training programme and the organisation of dual studies in partnership with companies. Overall, the regulation is the main guide for carrying out academic activity, offering a balance between rigour and flexibility.

Chapter 11

The student's dictionary: basic concepts explained

Study programme, curriculum (study plan), ECTS credits, lecture, seminar, attendance, passing. In short, what they mean and why they matter.

The curriculum (study plan)

The document that tells you which subjects you have each semester, how many hours, how many credits and how you are assessed. The most important reference document: consult it all the time!

ECTS credits

1 credit = 25 hours of work. 30 per semester, 60 per year. At least 30 from the current year to move on to the next year; all 60 to be an integralist (all subjects passed).

Lecture vs. seminar

The lecture is the presentation in the lecture hall; the seminar is the practical part, in small groups, where attendance is usually compulsory and checked.

Attendance

You attend everything marked as compulsory attendance in the course syllabus. You can make up absences of up to 30%; above that, you retake the subject for a fee.

Passing

The minimum passing grade is 5. You have 2 examinations (exam session + re-sits); the third one is for a fee. If you still do not pass, you contract the subject again the following year.

The year tutor

The first person to turn to with any question about subjects, the contract, absences or procedures. Their name and email are in this guide.

How to study effectively?

- ✔ Split the material into small, clear chunks
- ✔ Use the Pomodoro method (25 min study + 5 min break)
- ✔ Write down the key ideas and draw diagrams
- ✔ Learn actively, not passively: questions, summaries, examples
- ✔ Test yourself before the exam

Practical tips

- ✔ The course syllabus (fișa disciplinei) is your friend! Read it at the beginning of each semester; it tells you everything: whether attendance is compulsory, how the examination works, what the weight of each assignment is, etc.
- ✔ Manage your absences responsibly, justify them immediately and make them up on time.
- ✔ Get your student card (carnet) stamped at the Secretary's office at the beginning of each year. Without the stamp (visa), grades cannot be recorded.
- ✔ Sign your annual study contract carefully. It is your agreement on the subjects/courses you will follow in that year.
- ✔ Look into specific details about registration, scholarships, mobility or particular procedures: consult the full regulation or contact your year tutor/ coordinator and the Faculty Secretary's office.

Remember: small daily progress + consistency = big results! 🎯

Welcome to our academic community!
We wish you every success and fulfilment in your studies!

The e-learning platform

e.uoradea.ro: courses, materials, assignments, tests and messaging. The main channel of communication with your lecturers and year tutors.

The Faculty of Economic Sciences uses the University of Oradea e-learning platform (https://e.uoradea.ro) for its teaching activities, for communication with students and for communication between students and their year tutors. This Moodle platform allows students to be enrolled in all the courses in the curriculum, to upload and download teaching materials, to communicate through forum messages, to check whether students have accessed the available information, and to handle assignments, papers, multiple-choice tests, etc.

The University of Oradea e-learning platform, available at https://e.uoradea.ro, is an essential tool for teaching and communication. Here is a short guide on how you will use it.

1. Logging in and access

Logging in is done exclusively with your institutional Microsoft Office 365 account (your UO email address).

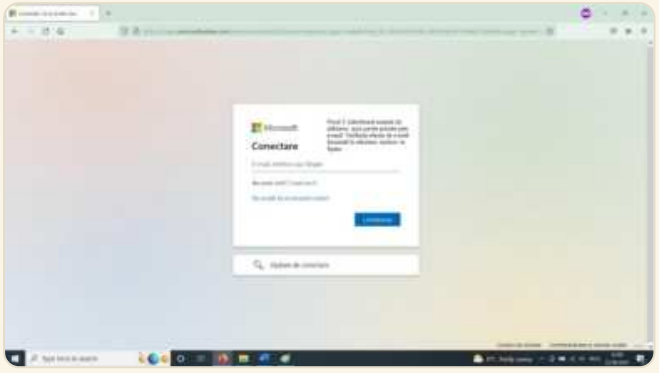
1. Go to the platform and click the „Autentificare cu contul Office 365" (Log in with your Office 365 account) button.
2. Enter the email address and password of your Microsoft account.



2. Main navigation: the key pages

After logging in, you will find a navigation menu at the top of the page with the following essential options:

- „Acasă" (Home): the main page with announcements and general information.
- „Tablou de bord" (Dashboard): your central hub! Here you will find:
  - „Cronologie" (Timeline): all upcoming, current and overdue activities (courses, seminars, tests, assignments to upload); it can be sorted by date or by course;
  - „Servicii Microsoft" (Microsoft services): quick access to all the Microsoft O365 tools you work with (Teams, OneDrive, Email, etc.);
  - „Link-uri utile" (Useful links): to the eUOradea mobile app and the user manuals.
- „Cursurile mele" (My courses): the most important page! This is where all the courses you are enrolled in are listed, displayed as cards. You can filter and sort the courses by year or status (in progress, upcoming), or you can search for them.

3. Structure and content of a course

When you open a course, it is logically organised into sections (for example: „Cursuri" (Lectures), „Seminare" (Seminars), „Resurse" (Resources), „Teste" (Tests)).

- The content may consist of: files (PDF, PPT, DOC), links, videos.
- The activities may include: online attendance, questionnaires, tests and assignments (tasks where you upload files).
- Once you finish an activity, it is automatically marked as completed.

4. Communication: messages and contacts

The platform has a built-in messaging system so you can easily communicate with your colleagues and lecturers.

- Open „Mesaje" (Messages) from the navigation bar.
- To communicate with someone, you first need to add them to your „Contacte" (Contacts) by searching for their name.
- Once the person accepts your request, you can send messages directly within the platform.

For certain activities that have to take place online in "video-audio conference" mode, the Microsoft Teams communication platform is also used, to which students and teaching staff have free access; however, other platforms that allow audio-video conferences to be organised (Google Meet, WebEx, Zoom or Skype) may also be chosen. Activities that take place online on audio-video platforms may be recorded by students only with the consent of the lecturer or the organiser.

5. The mobile app: eUOradea

- For easy access on the go, download the „eUOradea" mobile app (available for iOS and Android) from the „Tablou de bord" (Dashboard) page.
- You will log in with the same Office 365 account.

6. Support and assistance

- For any technical problem (including login problems), contact the university's Learning Centre at the email address: suport@uoradea.ro.
- In your message, always mention: your surname, first name, faculty, study programme and year of study, so that you can receive a reply as quickly and accurately as possible.

PRACTICAL TIPS

1. Check the announcements and news on the platform every day (the „Tablou de bord" (Dashboard) page) so that you do not miss important deadlines for assignments or tests.
2. Download the mobile app to always stay up to date.
3. Familiarise yourself with the structure of each course at the beginning of the semester.
4. Use the messaging system to communicate with your colleagues on group projects and to ask questions of your lecturers or year tutors.

The e-learning platform is the main channel for communication and for carrying out activities! Check it frequently!

Chapter 13

Checking your academic record (grades)

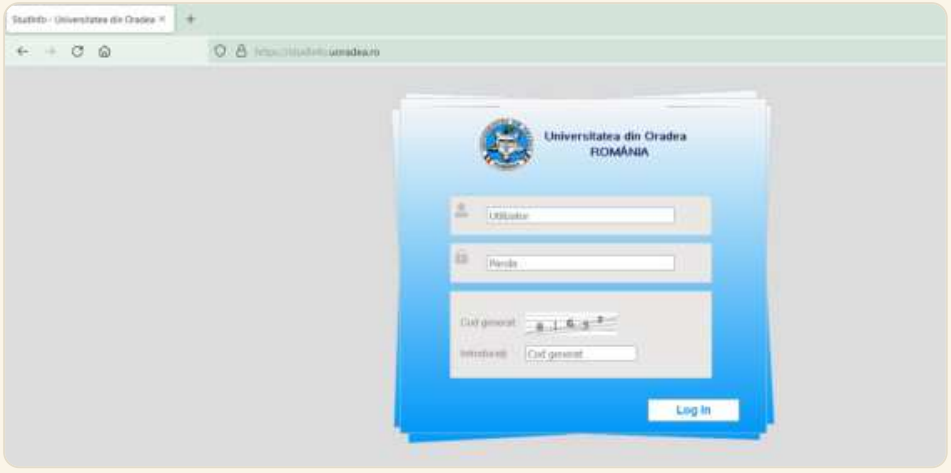
studinfo.uoradea.ro: your grades, your academic record and other information about your student status, anytime, online.

The grades of University of Oradea students are recorded in an online register that can be accessed at https://studinfo.uoradea.ro/. Here students can consult their grades, check their academic record and other information related to their student status.

We recommend accessing https://studinfo.uoradea.ro/ using Microsoft Edge or Google Chrome. Some versions of Mozilla Firefox do not allow access. To check your academic record, follow these steps:

1. Open Microsoft Edge or Google Chrome and type in the address studinfo.uoradea.ro.
2. On the page that opens, you will need to enter your Utilizator (Username) and Parola (Password).

The username is your CNP (personal identification number) or your unique StudInfo username. If you do not know or no longer remember your password, use the Resetează parola (Reset password) link. You will be asked for your username and the email address you provided to the University, to which you will receive a new password generated automatically by the system (if you cannot find the email, please also check your SPAM folder). This password does not give you access to the platform; it can only be used to allow you to set your own password. For security reasons, the system will ask you to change your personal password periodically.



Chapter 14

Career opportunities. Connections with the business community

An economist's career does not begin on graduation day; it is built step by step, throughout the years of study.

The Faculty of Economic Sciences and the University of Oradea have developed an ecosystem that connects students directly with the business community, offering them concrete opportunities to put theory into practice, to develop their skills and to build a valuable professional network while still at university.

Choosing to study in Oradea is backed by the region's remarkable economic dynamism. The city's visible economic development creates an extremely favourable environment for graduates entering the labour market. For a student in economic sciences, studying in such a context is a huge advantage.

The relationship between the FSE and the local and regional business community offers students internships, work placements, mentoring programmes and professional training courses.

The Faculty has solid partnerships with numerous companies in the region, which makes it easier for students to access internships, work placements and mentoring programmes. Internships are teaching activities included in the curriculum and are compulsory for all students of the Faculty, in year II, semester 2.

The Faculty regularly organises career events, company visits and company presentations, where students can interact directly with employers and find out about job opportunities.

The Advisory Board of the Faculty of Economic Sciences is a structure for collaboration between academia and the business community, bringing together representatives of banks, companies, employers' organisations and relevant institutions in the economy, alongside academic staff and the Faculty's management. Its purpose is to create strategic partnerships that support the adaptation of study programmes to the real needs of the labour market, promote applied research and innovation, and offer economics students concrete opportunities for professional development. Through this board, students benefit from access to internships, work placements, mentoring programmes, scholarships and employment opportunities, being better prepared for the transition to a career and for integration into a dynamic and competitive economic environment.

The Faculty of Economic Sciences runs projects through which it strengthens its ties with partners in the business community.

What Erasmus+ means at FSE Oradea

At the Faculty of Economic Sciences (University of Oradea), the European Commission's Erasmus+ programme offers three main types of student mobility:

2. Placement mobility (internship): completing an internship at a company, institution or organisation abroad, in order to gain international professional experience.
3. Erasmus+ scholarships for Blended Intensive Programmes (BIP): innovative programmes that combine short-term physical mobility (5-30 days) with virtual activities. Students take part in international courses and projects, working together with colleagues and lecturers from different countries.

ONLINE PLATFORM FOR INTERNSHIPS AND WORK PLACEMENTS ABROAD THROUGH ERASMUS

Through the platform https://erasmusintern.org/, specially designed to make international internships easier to access, students can find a wide range of companies and organisations across Europe offering positions in relevant fields such as marketing, management, finance, business development or human resources.

Why apply: the benefits of Erasmus+

Taking part in Erasmus+ is not just a "trip", it is an investment in yourself, both personally and professionally. Here is what you gain:

- International experience: you live and study in another country, in a multicultural environment. You broaden your horizons and get to know other cultures, teaching styles and different ways of thinking.
- Language skills development: whether you attend courses in a foreign language or in an international language, the language becomes a tool you master better and better.
- Independence and adaptability: you manage in an unfamiliar environment, find solutions, interact with different people; all of this boosts your confidence and makes you more flexible.
- Competitive advantage on the labour market: international experience, internships in companies in other countries, studies abroad; all of these are highly valued by employers. Intercultural skills, knowledge of other languages and networking matter a great deal.
- Academic diversity: you can benefit from modules you cannot find at home, different teaching methods, lecturers or colleagues with new perspectives. This inspires and stimulates innovation.
- International networks: get in touch with lecturers, colleagues and institutions abroad; relationships that can open doors to collaborations, projects and jobs.

What taking part in Erasmus+ actually involves (what you need to know)

To make the most of these opportunities, you need to pay attention to a few things:

- Eligibility: you must be a student at FSE Oradea, at bachelor's, master's or a similar level, and meet the Faculty's selection criteria (grade averages, possibly language proficiency).
- Selection calendar: submitting your application file, an interview, then the allocation of the destination and partner university.
- Inter-institutional agreements: the Faculty has partnerships with 109 universities in Europe, and these agreements define which universities are available, which courses can be recognised, the duration, etc.
- Funding / scholarship: Erasmus+ offers a scholarship that partially covers living, accommodation and transport costs; however, not all costs are covered, so estimate what you will need to top up yourself.
- Recognition of studies: before leaving, talk to the coordinating lecturers and the Erasmus office to establish which courses will be recognised when you return, so that you do not lose credits.
- Language of instruction and adaptation: make sure you can follow the courses at a decent level in the host university's language, or that you have foreign language support.

The long-term picture: what you can build with Erasmus+

Think of Erasmus+ not just as an opportunity for one semester, but as a catalyst for:

- An impressive CV: not just diplomas, but experiences that show you have stepped out of your comfort zone and can work in an international environment.
- Opportunities for a master's degree or internship abroad: the relationships you build and the universities where you study can be bridges to future collaborations or further studies.
- Cultural and personal openness: you develop a broader view of the world, understand diversity better, and become more empathetic, more tolerant and a better communicator.
- Foreign languages, a plus: in a globalised world, these skills are not just an extra, they are often essential.

If you are thinking about Erasmus+, consider the following steps

1. Get in touch with the Erasmus / International Relations Office of the Faculty of Economic Sciences; that is where you will find all the details about partner universities, available courses and deadlines.
2. Make a list of destinations that appeal to you; think about what you want to study, but also about living costs, language and culture.
3. Check your language skills and whether a certified level is required.
4. Prepare a good application file: motivation, academic results, possibly extracurricular activities; show that you want it and that you are determined.
5. Plan a realistic budget: the Erasmus scholarship helps a lot, but some expenses will be on you (transport, visits, going out, etc.).
6. Check when applications open for the 2026-2027 academic year. There will be a set calendar for submitting application files, selection interviews, etc.

Sign up for Erasmus too! Get ready for an unforgettable academic adventure!

EU GREEN

The University of Oradea is part of the EU GREEN European Alliance (European Universities for a Green Future).

The University of Oradea is part of the EU GREEN European Alliance (European Universities for a Green Future), a partnership that brings together nine universities from across Europe, dedicated to sustainable education, innovation and international cooperation.

Membership of this network gives students access to joint academic programmes, international mobility, interdisciplinary research projects and initiatives that support personal and professional development in a European context. In this way, every student has the chance to become part of an extended university community, connected to the values of the green and digital transition.

What does EU GREEN mean for students? The chance to access unique international programmes that combine education with sustainability and innovation. They can benefit from research internships at partner universities and may be future beneficiaries of joint master's programmes. Every student has the opportunity to build an academic and professional experience at European standards. These initiatives open doors to a solid career and place the emphasis on the skills of the future, linked to the green and digital transition.

Students can take part in EU GREEN events, such as workshops, hackathons, sports challenges or festivals dedicated to sustainability, and gain real opportunities to work side by side with other young Europeans and with professionals from various fields. In these contexts, students learn to collaborate, develop their leadership skills and discover how they can contribute to a more balanced and more responsible world. Every involvement becomes a life experience that brings confidence and clarity to their personal path.

EU GREEN also provides students with resources for personal and intercultural development: mentoring programmes, masterclasses given by experts and "language cafés" for practising foreign languages in a friendly environment. These initiatives help young people adapt more easily to the cultural and professional diversity they will encounter in their careers. Through such experiences, every student broadens their horizons and gains practical tools for achieving their goals.

Getting involved in EU GREEN means more than adding a valuable line to your CV; it means becoming part of a European community of the future. University of Oradea students now have the chance to build an academic and professional identity that is recognised internationally, by taking part in innovative programmes and initiatives that leave a positive mark on society.

Take advantage of these opportunities and turn your university studies into a memorable experience with a long-term impact!

Opportunities on the University of Oradea campus

Medical office, library, career counselling, dormitories, canteen and sports facilities: everything available to you on campus.

Buildings E and F, where you will find the lecture rooms of the Faculty of Economic Sciences, are located next to the main entrance to the campus.

Students of the Faculty of Economic Sciences benefit from all the facilities provided by the University of Oradea, designed to support both their academic path and their personal and social development. These include access to the university canteen, dedicated parking spaces, student camps, a modern library, as well as psychological counselling services and medical care through the student medical office.

Students also have access to modern sports facilities, which include sports grounds, a fitness room and a swimming pool. All these resources round out the university experience, creating an environment that helps shape competitive and engaged economists.

Discover the student facilities on the University of Oradea website: https://www.uoradea.ro/info-studenti/facilitati-studenti/

Student medical office

University of Oradea students benefit from free medical services right on campus, through the Student Medical Office located in building M. Here, the doctor and nurses provide consultations, treatment, preventive and curative medicine, as well as family planning and counselling services.

The office is open daily, from Monday to Friday, both at the office itself and in the field within the university, so that students have quick and easy access to medical care whenever they need it.

To be registered in the database, students must come with their student card and identity document, and those with chronic conditions should also bring the necessary medical documentation so that proper records can be kept.

The Student Medical Office carries out activities that are essential for the health of the academic community: epidemiological screening when students move into the dormitories (halls of residence), periodic medical examinations, monitoring of preventive vaccinations, issuing medical certificates and medical exemptions, as well as checking the hygiene conditions in study and accommodation spaces. Students can obtain medical documents for scholarships, deferrals of studies, and enrolment in master's or doctoral programmes, while international students receive support with the documents required to obtain or extend their residence visa.

TAKE CARE OF YOURSELF

Take care of your health and make the most of the free services offered right on campus: go to the Student Medical Office and get the support you need to stay active and ready for university life!

University of Oradea Library

The University of Oradea Library offers economics students a comprehensive support framework for study, research and professional development.

Students benefit from a free library card for the entire duration of their studies, open-shelf access and access to the reading rooms, as well as home lending and inter-library loan services. The Library provides computerised and traditional catalogues, specialist assistance in finding information and the possibility of having bibliographies compiled on request.

A major advantage is access to prestigious international databases such as ScienceDirect, SpringerLink, ProQuest Central, Cambridge Journals, Scopus or Web of Science, available both through the university network and via mobile access.

Students can also use individual study rooms and booths, free internet, spaces for conferences and exhibitions, as well as document copying and duplication services.

In addition, students can read and borrow specialist books and journals, consult current scientific works, carry out projects and documentary research, attend book launches, conferences and symposia, or prepare for exams and bachelor's theses in a modern, well-equipped academic environment.

All these resources support academic preparation, a deeper understanding of economics and a connection to the latest scientific literature, thus strengthening students' chances of becoming competitive specialists on the labour market. Career Counselling and Services Centre

Students of the Faculty of Economic Sciences can turn to the services of the Career Counselling and Services Centre (CCSC). The fundamental objective of this centre is to inform and counsel students and graduates in order to help them solve problems relating to their future careers. One of the main reasons students and graduates need counselling is the "shock" felt when moving from university life to the demands of a job.

The Centre offers specialised educational and psychological counselling services, helping students develop the skills they need to match the opportunities on the labour market. In addition, it offers a variety of valuable resources for students in professional development: easier access to jobs and work placements, as well as themed events for preparation and connection with the labour market. The Centre also organises dedicated events designed for students and graduates, such as "Career Days", which include volunteering fairs (an opportunity to discover local and national organisations where you can get involved to gain experience and improve your CV) and job fairs, which bring together employers from various fields offering jobs, work placements or practical experience.

The Career Counselling and Services Centre is located at 1 Universității Street, Campus 2, Building X, Office X013. If you would like details about a particular event (such as registration, participating companies, schedule) or want personalised suggestions based on your area of interest, visit the website https://www.ccsc.uoradea.ro.

The total capacity is 1,821 places, distributed among dormitories C1, C2, C3, C4, CP1 and CP2. They are equipped with suitable furniture, a fridge, study desks and wireless internet access. In addition, the common areas include reading rooms, kitchens, laundry rooms and bathrooms, which support both academic work and daily comfort. The modern dormitories CP1 and CP2 stand out for their rooms with private bathrooms, television and underfloor heating, ensuring a high standard of living.

The atmosphere in the dormitories is complemented by specially designed relaxation areas, where students can unwind or socialise. These spaces include comfortable armchairs and sofas, bean bags, pool and ping-pong tables, as well as decorative plants, designed to create a pleasant and friendly setting. The dormitory regulations provide for the active involvement of students in managing and monitoring accommodation conditions, through administration committees at dormitory level and student councils, which allows them to have a say in improving their day-to-day lives.

The accommodation process takes place every year according to a calendar posted on the university website and involves submitting an application, with places being allocated through the faculties. Students sign an accommodation contract and receive the room inventory, their dormitory card and the access keys. Accommodation fees vary depending on the number of places in the room and the student's status, and are set by Senate Decisions. Subject to availability, accommodation can also be obtained during the academic year, and in certain situations the dormitories can temporarily host people from outside the university.

The University of Oradea provides students with a canteen under private management, selected through a public tender: the company FrescoPiatto. The food offer is monitored by the responsible vice-rector together with student representatives, in order to meet the quality and diversity requirements set by the university. The canteen serves as a dining space, but also as a venue for student cultural and artistic events, contributing to the social life of the campus. FrescoPiatto offers a daily menu, festive platters and event catering.
